SUBJECT: Municipal Ticket Information Bylaw

SUMMARY: Under the authority of the Community Charter, the Village of Kaslo has the authority to issue fines in the form of municipal tickets, as a means of bylaw enforcement. The municipal ticketing scheme must be established by bylaw, and tickets must conform to the format specified in provincial legislation. The Village's current ticketing bylaw was adopted in 2006 requires updating.

The updated Municipal Ticketing Information bylaw (1294, 2023) received first and second reading at the 2023.06.13 Council Meeting. Council is asked to review the fines that will apply to listed infractions before the bylaw is presented to Council for third reading. Changes to the bylaw can not be made between third reading and adoption.

OPTIONS:

The Community Charter sets the maximum amount of a fine at $1,000 per infraction (there is no minimum). It is important to note that ongoing violations can incur daily fines, which are cumulative. Staff has consulted with neighbouring municipalities, and a summary of the fine amounts that apply in other communities is attached for Council's consideration.

Council is asked to provide direction to staff regarding the amount of the fine for each listed infraction (is it acceptable, too high or too low), and also to indicate any additional infractions that they would like to see become ticketable.

Additional discussions regarding enforcement capacity are likely required, since these work falls outside the scope of current staff's normal duties. Bylaw 1294 does add ticketing authority for the CAO. The recommendation at this point is to get the ticketing process up and running, and then monitor demand. Discussions regarding the need for additional staff capacity can be made once there is a better sense of the amount of ticketing required.

ATTACHMENTS:

- Municipal Ticket Information Bylaw 1294, 2023 (proposed)
- Comparisons – Schedules 2-13

ANALYSIS:

Staff has gathered information regarding the ticketing process in Nelson, Creston, Lumby and Greenwood. In addition to the fine amounts listed in the tables, the following general information is provided for Council's consideration:

- Every ticketing bylaw was different and no two had the exact same schedule for offences, the figures pulled together here show you a range in dollar amounts. Many of these bylaws have not been updated for over 10 years so fine amounts may not be in keeping with current day. Creston's bylaw is the newest.

- Every other municipality has fines for obstructing a bylaw officer. This is something we should consider each time we amend or replace a bylaw that involves enforcement.
- Every other municipality ticketed for infractions related to infrastructure sewer, water and drainage. This is something that we should consider when we revisit those regulatory bylaws.
- Creston now tickets for parking in a charging station. This is something to consider when we revisit the street & traffic bylaw.
- Creston and Nelson both have tiered offence rates and discounts for paying early. These options would add to the complexity of administration – not recommended at this time.
- Every municipality consulted indicated that unsightly premises was the most frequent cause of complaints and most common use of ticketing powers. This has been added to the draft bylaw.
- Midway and Greenwood shared a bylaw officer up until a few months ago. Midway is currently seeking a bylaw enforcement officer for two days a week.

MUNICIPAL TICKETING BYLAW FINES – COMPARISON OF SELECT LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Summary of compared ticketing bylaws:

- Every ticketing bylaw was different and no two had the exact same schedule for offences, the figures pulled together here show you a range in dollar amounts. Many of these bylaws have not been updated for over 10 years so fine amounts may not be in keeping with current day. Creston's bylaw is the newest.
- Every other municipality has fines for obstructing a bylaw officer. This is something we should consider each time we amend or replace a bylaw that involves enforcement.
- Every other municipality ticketed for infractions related to infrastructure sewer, water and drainage. This is something that we should consider when we revisit those regulatory bylaws.
- Creston now tickets for parking in a charging station. This is something to consider when we revisit the street & traffic bylaw.
- Creston and Nelson both have tiered offence rates and discounts for paying early. These options would add to the complexity of administration – not recommended at this time.
- Every municipality consulted indicated that unsightly premises was the most frequent cause of complaints and most common use of ticketing powers. This has been added to the draft bylaw.
- Midway and Greenwood shared a bylaw officer up until a few months ago. Midway is currently seeking a bylaw enforcement officer for two days a week.
